A Sun-sational Solar Eclipse Party

We had a sun-sational day at our campus eclipse party on April 8, complete with a DJ, snacks, and fun! Though we were on the very edge of seeing 100% totality, the experience was incredible, and everyone had a great time.

Residents from Independent Living, Assisted Living, and Crandall Medical Center all came together to enjoy this amazing solar eclipse.

If you spend even a short time investigating senior living communities, you encounter the terms "independent living" and "assisted living." And maybe you're wondering what exactly is the difference between the two options. The differences—and similarities for that matter—between independent and assisted living are about meeting people's needs during various parts of the aging process.

Learn more about the differences on our blog, and attend our April 21 open house armed with knowledge!

Chef's Salad on a Stick

Who said you have to eat salad in a bowl?

Ingredients:

- 4 hard-boiled eggs
- ½ English cucumber
- 2 oz. deli ham, thick-cut
- 2 oz. deli turkey breast, thick-cut
- 2 oz. deli roast beef, thick-cut
- 1 8 oz. Swiss cheese block
- 1 head red leaf lettuce
- 16 grape tomatoes
- 8 large green olives
- 8 12-inch skewers
- Ranch dressing
- Black pepper

Directions:

1. Cut each hard-boiled egg into four pieces.
2. Slice the cucumber lengthwise, and cut into half circles, about 1/2-inch thick.
3. Cut the ham, turkey, and roast beef slices lengthwise into 1-inch wide strips.
4. Roll each strip of meat up into a pinwheel, set aside.
5. Cut the Swiss cheese block into 16 cubes.

7. Top off each skewer with 1 green olive.
8. Serve on a platter drizzled with ranch dressing and sprinkled with black pepper.
